Excerpt from Christ Our Pascha

Repentance

Thus, repentance is enlightenment, the crossing from darkness to light. Until we see the light of Christ we will not be able to recognize our own sins. The closer we come to God, the more clearly we see how sinful we are. The light of Christ illumines us and leads us to repentance, to a vision of beauty rather than deformity, to an awareness of God's glory rather than of our own destitution. (#784)

Next Sunday: Bishop Benedict will visit St. Josaphat!
There will be a dinner following Liturgy to greet him.

Who is Venerable Father Isidore of Pelusium?

The son of pious Christians, Isidore lived in Alexandria during the fourth-fifth centuries. As a youth he withdrew to Egypt to Mount Pelusium, to become a monk. Isidore's spiritual wisdom and strict asceticism, combined with his broad learning and innate knowledge of the human soul, won the respect and love of his fellow monks who had him ordained a priest. Following the example of Saint John Chrysostom, Saint Isidore devoted himself to Christian preaching, teaching and counseling anyone who needed spiritual encouragement, whether it was a simple man, a dignitary, a bishop, the Patriarch of Alexandria, or even the emperor. He wrote about 10,000 letters, of which 2,090 have survived. Through the initiative of Isidore the Third Ecumenical Council was convened at Ephesus (431) where the false teaching of Nestorius concerning the person of Jesus Christ was condemned. Saint Isidore lived into old age and died around 436 AD. The historian, Nicephorus Callistus (ninth century), praises Saint Isidore thus: "He was a vital and inspired pillar of monastic rules and divine vision, and as such he presented a very lofty image of most fervent example and spiritual teaching."
